Standards of Excellence

Staff from Food Banks Canada recently had the pleasure of visiting Just Friends Food Bank and Community Resource Centre in Stanley, NB to celebrate their accreditation through the National Standards of Excellence!

Just Friends Food Bank and Community Resource Centre started the National Standards of Excellence process early, and despite being a small food bank, they tackled it piece by piece to come into compliance in early 2024. They are now one of the first 5 food banks in the country to be accredited. The organization aims to serve all those in need in their community, and their incredible team is doing an outstanding job of providing essential services, especially during these challenging times.

We want to congratulate Just Friends Food Bank on becoming accredited through Food Banks Canada National Standards of Excellence and paving the way for smaller food banks nationwide. To learn more about Just Friends Food Bank, please visit their website at: <https://www.justfriendsfoodbank.com/>
